

Council Statement: Updates on Orientation Programme for AY16/17

The Nanyang Technological University (NTU) Freshmen Orientation 2016 for Schools, Halls and Student Organisations will take place over two weeks from 23rd July to 5th August 2016. The University Orientation Coordination Committee (UOCC) has come to this decision after months of careful discussions and deliberation.

NTU Students' Union (NTUSU) representatives, Senior Hall Fellows and College representatives represent students' voices and interests on the UOCC.

The concerns and suggestions by the Schools, Halls, and Student Organisations have been represented and debated during the many meetings convened. This include the suggested time allocation schedule proposed by the 25th NTUSU Council, witnessed by the halls' Junior Common Room Committee (JCRC) representatives, on the 22nd September 2015.

The final decision on the time allocation schedule for NTU Freshmen Orientation 2016 is as follows:

Halls	23 rd July 2016 (Saturday) – 27 th July 2016 (Wednesday)
Student Organisations (NTUSU, Cultural Activities Club, Welfare Services Club, Sports Club)	28 th July 2016 (Thursday) – 31 st July 2016 (Sunday)
Schools	1 st August 2016 (Monday) – 5 th August 2016 (Friday)

The other student interest groups and clubs not covered during the two-week schedule will have to organise their orientation programmes after the two weeks.

The UOCC will continue to monitor and discuss the experience of all NTU freshmen for the model adopted in NTU Freshmen Orientation 2016 and find the best ways to achieve the objectives of orientation beyond 2016.

A follow-up statement explaining the changes in NTU Freshmen Orientation for 2016 will be released in due course.
